The term "Routine SEX" means
Married couples think of sex as house-

There is a theory that says the penis of a human is bigger than that of other mammals. It is probably because the female prefers a masculinity with big penis for a SEX mate. Of course, that is just a hypothesis with no scientific basis.

In a test conducted by Dr. Kinsey on "Sexual Responses", it shows that men get excited 10 times more than women when seeing the naked body of the opposite sex.

In another study, it shows that guys are more of the visual type than girls, who are more into the physical side, when it comes to sexual arousal.

Many chimpanzees, gorillas and other primates don't have a specific mating season. That's why they have sexual urges all year long... But some people say that in warm water climates or lands with many seasons, primates don't feel like doing it. However, for those times when the days are longer and the nights shorter, primates tend to do it more.

Alcohol has been very important to sexual life for thousands of years. Be it men or women, as the intake of alcohol increases, self-restraint lowers, making it easier to express your love!

Maybe, alcohol is a kind of "love potion" too. ♪

For your information, women in the Middle East often drink "Rose Wine." Not only does it strengthen the reproductive organs, it also makes the body odor smell like perfume! ♪

Although it's true that when men drink a lot of alcohol, their sexual desire grows. However, if they drink too much, the alcohol causes men to be unable to have an erection. (If you drink too much liquor, it could even lead to an Impotency Disorder.)

Meanwhile, women can keep on drinking and have sex with no side effects ♡

FEMALE EROGENOUS ZONES MAP TOTAL ANALYSIS

(Nape)

The nape is from the lower part of the ear to the neck, which is most sensitive. The hair here.

(Back)

On some people a relaxing effect when touched but need to be gentle sometimes.

(Buttocks)

A time-sensitive area. Usually relaxing or shivering this area can give surprising results.

(Ankles)

Along the leg, just will find the response zone below the ankle.

(Mouth)

The lips and tongue are very sensitive. The base of the tongue start here.

(Breasts)

Lots of response zones. The more the touched the more sensitive it gets.

(Diaphragm)

Shivering below the ribs will produce a relaxed sensation.

(Hair)

Usually increases in wet provide sensitive and relaxing feelings.

(Ears)

They react towards stimulation near the opening of the ear hole.

(Neck)

Human nerve endings are concentrated here. Soft rubbing will make her feel good. How about using a brush?

(Nipples)

As these are very sensitive try to stimulate it with different ways.

(Navel)

Showering the navel will slowly result in a pleasurable feeling.

(Clamor)

Stroke towards the genitals will greatly increase excitement.

(Feet)

The tips of the fingers and toes are sensitive areas where nerve endings overlap.

(Genitals)(Pubic hair)

As along spreads will cause the folds appear to be filled with blood becoming more sensitive.

(Clitoris) The No. 1 orgasm spot. Not partly.

(Urethra) Slightly painful when overly stimulated. Rather than calling it a pleasant sensation, it actually feels numb.

(Vagina) A lot of this folds about 1/3 of the way in, one of the strongest sensation spots.

(Anus) Shocks that react to strong vibrations are proven deep inside the rectum. Stimulating it strongly will also produce pleasure.

(Labia Majora) Showering this part will increase its thickness by about twice. About 2cm long.

(Vulva) Gets hard when stimulated and its sensitivity is only second to the clitoris. About 3-5cm in thickness.

(Perineum) Tearing it with fingers will provide sensation in both the vagina and the anus.
